MESSAGE FROM WORLD ASSOCIATION OF CHEFS' SOCIETIES

Dear Chefs, Friends, Ladies and Gentlemen,

Looking forward to being with you again for a successful FHAM 2025. I am sure that all competitors are again well trained and prepared for the culinary challenge. Every year we experience a better competition. I wish all the competitors in the hot kitchen and static display all the very best.

Wishing you many medals and certificates. But remember, winning is not the most important thing when we go to competitions. It's all about learning and gaining experience. Remember your learning starts when you start your research, then you train, practice your dish to perfection. During this process you get lots of feedback from your colleagues. Then the competition day with your feedback from the judges and again from the colleagues.

I am sure during this process you all learned and gained experience. Again, all the best and good luck to everyone.

I used to ask 3 questions to my team when they came back from the competitions:

1. Did you enjoy, did you have fun?
2. Did you make new contacts, new friends?
3. Did you learn, did you improve your knowledge?

If all the answers are answered with yes, then your mission was 100 % achieved whatever the result was. Of course, a medal or even a gold medal was the icing on the cake, and it always helps you to get more support from your hotel or restaurant for the next competition.

A big thank you to all the organizing team for the hard work to put this great event together. Thanks also to all the sponsors and exhibitors, special to Lilly International for this support in all these years. Look forward to many more years of successful FHAM Finally, thank you and congratulations to Miriam Nordeen and her team, amazing work over the years.

Culinary regards

MESSAGE FROM CHEFS' GUILD OF MALDIVES

Dear Chefs,

Warm greetings from the Chefs Guild of Maldives (CGM).

We are delighted to share that the FHA Maldives Global Culinary Challenge 2025 is once again bringing together chefs from around the world, making it the only Worldchefs endorsed international Culinary Challenge in the Maldives. Since 2015, CGM has been playing a vital role in this competition, working alongside international partners to ensure that all culinary competitions held in the Maldives are endorsed and approved by Worldchefs, upholding the highest global standards.

As our National chefs' Association, our vision is to provide a platform that encourages Maldivian chefs to step forward and participate both in national competitions at home and international events abroad. We strongly believe that through these experiences, our chefs will not only sharpen their skills but also build the confidence to proudly represent the Maldives on the global culinary stage.

With this spirit, CGM warmly invites and encourages all chefs and specially Maldivian chefs to take part in FHA Maldives 2025. It is a unique opportunity to showcase your talent, learn from world-class judges and competitors, and be inspired by the diversity of our industry.

Most importantly, it is a step closer to our collective aim – to see outstanding Maldivian chefs competing as the National Team of the Maldives at international and global challenges. We look forward to your enthusiastic participation and to celebrating the remarkable talents of our Maldivian culinary community.

With best regards,
Chefs Guild of Maldives (CGM)

MESSAGE FROM CHEFS' GUILD OF LANKA

We are proud to be a part of the Food and Hotel Asia Maldives Culinary Event that keeps us closely connected to the Maldivian and expat Chefs in Male.

This event has now grown from a nation to an international level with over 600 participants from 10 countries in attendance.

I'm sure it will reach greater heights in the future due to the fact of its great resort tourism and the beautiful beaches it has to offer.

It was not long ago that we only had less than 200 participants from 10 resorts /hotels, and today we have over 650 participants representing over 80 resorts / hotels.

Since the formation of the Chefs Guild of Maldives in 2014 we can see a huge growth in the local culinary field and the image they have created for themselves and the country which contributes immensely towards tourism.

The credit has to go to the Chefs Guild of Maldives for all the effort they have contributed and providing opportunities for their talented Chefs to compete at International Culinary events, including the most prestigious culinary event in the world 'The world Culinary Olympics'.

On behalf of the Chefs in Sri Lanka I endorse our continued support to them and look forward to working closely in building up a firm and strong bond of fellowship.

Hope you all have an interesting and exiting Culinary Event in the next few days.

Best Culinary Regards.

Chef Gerard Mendis
